WANTED IN RICHMOND

Ben Jones, Colored, Arrested in Alexandria Yesterday Wanted in Richmond.

Bennie S. Jones, colored, a chauffer and butler until yesterday for Colonel James R. Branch, of 3 east Franklin street, Richmond, arrested in this city yesterday, by officer William Campbell and later turned over to Detective Horn of Washington, is wanted in Richmond, where he is charged with the larceny of diamonds and other jewelry from the home of his employer, valued at $1,840. The robbery occurred on Sunday night.

The arrest was effected through a letter sent broadcast by Detective Captain T. J. McMahon and telegrams which reached thirty-eight cities.' In the letter the following articles were described as having been taken:

One double snake ring, two heads, two-and-one-half carat diamonds in same, value, $500; one ruby ring, ruby in center, one carat diamond on each side of ruby, value $400; one pearl pin surrounded by diamonds, value $200; one ruby pin, two carats, surrounded by diamonds, value $500; one Pear-shaped pearl stick pin, two or three small pearls below large pearl, with diamond beneath, value $200; one-face gold watch, value $40.

Captain McMahon received a telegram from Washington stating that Jones, who said he worked for the Philadelphia Automobile Company, of 1031 west Broad street, Richmond, was under arrest. He had several pawn tickets, some being from local pawnbrokers.

In addition he had the following articles; one ruby ring, ruby in center, one-carat diamond on each side, of ruby; one pearl pin surrounded by diamonds; one ruby pin, two carats, surrounded by diamonds, and one pear-shaped pearl stick pin, two or three small pearls below large pearl, with diamond beneath.

An officer was sent from Richmond today for Jones.

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram giving the numbers on the pawn tickets, Captain McMahon sent a plain-clothes man to the pawnshops to ascertain the goods pledged on the tickets. He was unable to state definitely last night whether all the articles came from the home of Colonel Branch of not. He said that some of the articles were pledged as early as last Tuesday. He believed that Jones had been taking articles from the home for more than a week.

Jones had easy access to all parts of the Branch house .The robbery was not discovered until near midnight Sunday, when Mrs. Branch sought her watch and was unable to find it. An examination showed that jewelry boxes had been rifled. In his haste the thief overlooked other valuable jewelry, including two pearl studs of considerable value.

According to the Richmond police Jones went to that city from Atlanta and has been working for Colonel Branch but a short time. The officers say that he is also wanted on a charge of engaging in a shooting affair late on Sunday night with Arthur Dabbs, colored. Patrolmen Jennings and Goode, who appeared against Dabbs in Police Court yesterday, said there was trouble between Jones and Dabbs. Dabbs was arrested, but, according to him Jones was the one who did the shooting.

The officers attempted to arrest Jones, but when he saw Patrolman Jennings approaching the negro threw his hand to his hip pocket and then ran. The officer fired three times at the fugitive without effect apparently. An effort was made by the officers to locate him at his home on Harrison Street without result, and when they went to the Branch residence to arrest him they learned of the robbery.

In the meantime Jones had fled the city, going to Washington and later appearing in Alexandria where he was endeavoring to secure advances upon the stolen jewels when he was arrested, as stated in yesterday's Gazette.

H. B. CATON WILL SPEAK

Another Meeting For Men Planned For The Young People's Building Next Thursday Night

On last Thursday night Judge L. C. Barley delivered a practical and interesting address to men at the Young People's Building. It has been determined to continue these meetings weekly, and on each Thursday evening some representative citizens will speak on a pertinent subject. Next Thursday evening Harry B. Caton will deliver an address. Henry K. Field will preside on the occasion, and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Mr. Caton will take for his subject the duty of all good citizens towards the city and commonwealth, in connection with law and its enforcement, The subject will be opportune, as within less than two weeks after the delivery of his address the Prohibition law will be in force. The speaker will appeal to his hearers and through them to all other good citizens to vie with the authorities in enforcing this measure.

It is unnecessary to state that it is the duty of all well-disposed citizens to act with the authorities not only in enforcing Prohibition but all other laws. If any one is cognizant of the fact that some statute is being volated, it is his duty to direct the attention of the officers thereto and become a witness if necessary. Should all act upon this principle, the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Virginia would be maintained at all times.

Our children in the public schools are taught the science of government—federal, state and city—and they should also be taught from the age of responsibility to observe the laws and make themselves examples, and when necessary, to act with the authorities in seeing that others obey them.

The ouster law merely empowers each citizen of the commonwealth to act when officers of the state or city fail to carry out laws. Like all statutes, however, it cannot instill into men the good principle that they should become auxiliaries to law officers when occasion demands. Mr. Caton will endeavor to impress this duty upon his hearers.

A FAVORABLE OMEN?

German Said to Have Made Photographs of Reclaimed Ground in Alexandria Friday.

Considerable excitement was caused on Lee street, south of Wilkes, Fridday afternoon when a stranger, evidently of German birth or extraction, appeared on Windmill Hill, near the east end of the Wilkes street tunnel. His movements attracted attention at once, and children began to gather about the Teuton. After he had arranged his apparatus, he asked some of the young tunnel towners if they desired their pictures taken. It was soon seen, however, that the man was not interested in pictures of children, but that he was engaged in procuring pictures of the reclaimed ground as well of Union and Lee streets as far south as Hunting creek. Having accomplished his object, he vanished as suddenly as he had appeared.

A number of neighbors were attracted into the streets by the stranger's procedures. This incident may prove a good omen. German spies are said to permeate every branch of our government and to be scattered over the entire country. Query; has the Imperial government of Germany ascertained that Alexandria is to be chosen as the site of the new armor plant?

A. H. S. TEAM WINS

Down Charlotte Hall Boys in Keen Game With Score of 32 to 0.

Against greatly superior weight the team of the Alexandria High School won their first victory of the season in their game with the team of the Military School, at Charlotte Hall, Md.

The first score for Alexandria was made in the first quarter when Dreifus carried the ball over the line after it had come to his arms through a very cleverly executed forward pass. From then on, although their opponents averaged twenty pounds heavier, the issue was never in doubt and despite many attacks Edmonds and Simmonds in the back line proved impregnable. And while Simmonds may be said to have starred throughout the game the playing of the remainder of the team was not far behind him in alertness and speed.

The remainder of the scoring came as a result of forward passing. Recognising the necessity of avoiding too much contact with his huskier opponents Captain Summers kept the ball in extended play as much as possible.

The trip to Charlotte Hall was made in automobiles. The boys returned to Alexandria about half past seven o'clock in the evening.

SAVED FROM THE NOOSE.

New Orleans, Oct. 17.—Death sentence pronounced upon Herman D. Pailet, murderer of his father here a year ago, has been commuted to life imprisonment by the State pardon board.

The judge presiding at Pailet's trial and a member of the pardon board dissented from the board's decision. It was admitted that the appeals of Mrs. Nathan S. Pailet, the murderer's mother, had decided the board in commuting the sentence.

At the trial of the young man the mother testified against the son. Before the pardon board she reversed her testimony and denied her statements at the trial. Pailet killed his father in the course of a dispute over money, which the son had asked for in order to finance his marriage to a New Orleans girl. Pailet was a former soldier in the United States army.

ECHO OF LATE ACCIDENT

Lady Operating Automobile Which Struck a Boy Sunday, October 1, Was Violating No Law

On Sunday afternoon, October 1, an automobile in which were seated three ladies of this city, struck Clarence Padgett, a twelve-year-old boy, opposite Spring Park Station upper King street. It was at first supposed the little fellow was fatally injured, and he was hurried to the Alexandria Hospital, where, to the great relief of the occupants of the automobile, the child's parents and all who were nearby at the time of the accident it was found that the boy had escaped serious injury. The case was investigated by Sergeant Roberts and Officer Thompson at the time, but the boy not being able to appear in the Police Court, the investigation of the case was continued until this morning, when the little victim was able to be present.

Young Padgett, was put on the stand first. He said he had no recollection of the accident and could give no information to the court. He was skating on upper King street with two other boys and had proceeded as far as Rosemont and remembered starting eastward toward home.

His two companions subsequently testified. They said they did not hear the warning horn of the automobile, although one of them said he called out to his companions to "looksharp!"

Three or four men later testified, although but one witnessed the accident. He said the auto was not exceeding the speed limit and was under control, as it did not proceed more than two cars' length when it was brought to a stop. He was clearly of the opinion that the accident was unavoidable.

Mrs. John Monroe, who was operating the car, testified to blowing the horn and having the machine under control. She stated that she saw but two boys, and that they were skating on the vitrified brick pavement on the right side going east. When the auto was within a few feet of the youngsters the boy who was struck suddenly veered to the east. It was impossible to avoid the youngster, and the headlight struck and knocked him down, the car passing over him, but not the wheels. She turned the car to the right as quickly as possible and ran it upon the curb. Her testimony was corroborated by the two ladies who were with her at the time.

Justice Caton, in summing up the case, called attention to the fact that it is unlawful to skate upon streets where railway tracks have been placed; also that the evidence showed that Mrs. Monroe had violated no law in the running of the automobile—she was on the right side of the street, had sounded the horn, according to the three occupants of the car, was not running at excessive speed nor was she operating the machine carelessly. Hence there was nothing that the Police Court could take cognizance of.

"AND THEIR WORKS DO FOLLOW THEM."

Nedjo Kerovic, one of the conspirators in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austrian throne, in 1914, has died in a military prison. Three of the conspirators in the assassination of the Archduke were executed in February, 1915, and Jakov Zilovic and Nedjo Kerovic were sentenced to imprisonment for life, but the term was later commuted to 20 years. Gavrio Prinzip, the actual assassin, was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Bismark, when the shadows of death were falling across his path, is quoted as saying, "'I have caused the death of eighty thousand men in my time. But God has forgiven me."

When death closed the eyes of Napoleon the First on the island of St. Helena, the English press breathed freer. Some of the more superstitious Britons were anxious as long as the Corsican lived. They thought he might play a trick similar to that of escaping from Elba. When it was known positively that Napoleon was dead, there was jubilation throughout the British ilses. A pictorial paper about that time represented the former conqueror entering the Plutonian realms, with thousands of the shades of the youth of France pointing the finger of scorn at him. Added to these were myriads of the unborn.

A book was published many years ago bearing the euphonious title, "Letters from Hell." The idea of the author was to show that our works follow us into the eternal world. If our lives are illspent here, there is a development in the future, where we cannot escape the company we kept upon earth, or the cruel sottish and sensual scenes through which we have passed in the flesh. Such, however, are greatly expanded and the expansion continues throughout the ceaseless ages of eternity. The writer supposes this is what is meant by the words, "Where the fire is never quenched, and where the worm dieth not."

In these "letters" Pontius Pilate is represented as endeavoring to wash the blood of the Saviour fr hands by the water of the river Styx. But, like Lady Macbeth, the spots will not out.

Now if Bismarck's c troubled him when he recalled the war with Denmark in order to en large Germany, the conflict with Austria which followed in its wake, when the country of Francis Joseph was made to give up its share of the plunder of the Danes, and the heartless war of 1870 with France by virtue of a forged dispatch which forced Napoleon III. into a conflict the result of w nown from the beginning, be the cogitations of N who was one of the pri starting a conflagration of which is no where in sig ndes of half of the globe at him in the near future.

BRIDGING THE POTOMAC

During the progress of the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this city, last night, there was some interchange of opinion in regard to the proposed construction of a railroad bridge across the Potomac about fifty miles south of this city.

Some who participated in the discussion were averse to the building of the bridge, alleging that it would be a menace to navigation. It was pointed out that should our dreams be realized by Alexandria being selected as the site for the new armor plant and the Western Maryland Railroad be extended to this city the proposed railroad bridge across the Potomac would result in making Alexandria a coal distributing center.

There is but one class of bridge Alexandria should favor, and that should be as high as the Brooklyn Bridge, in order to allow anything that floats to pass under it.

The proposed bridge, as it known, is to form part of a proposed road from Norfolk to Washington, via Shepherd's, opposite Alexandria. The matter should be investigated closely by Alexandrians, as anything in the way of a barrier to navigation would be deterimental to the interest of the city.

ANXIOUS REPUBLICANS.

Notwithstanding the many fake bets offered by admirers of Charles E. Hughes, and the assumptions that he will have a walkover in the race for the White House next month that there is anxiety among the republican leaders has always been known. "Senator Penrose and the other managers of the Hughes campaign in Pennsylvania now believe that President Wilson has a good chance of carrying the State on November 7. Penrose is plainly worried over the outlook, and he is making desperate efforts to stem the Wilson tide."

SHOOTS HER FATHER

Chicago, Oct. 17—Miss Fern Roberts, sixteen, who shot her father, Dr. Grant J. Roberts, a dentist three times last night, because he left her mother, was arrested here early today. The father is in a dangerous condition.

Miss Roberts confessed the shooting today, and said she had resolved to kill her father unless he consented to return to her mother.

Dr. Roberts formerly was in the United States Medical Corps in the Canal Zone, and is well known here. He was taken to the Norwegian Hospital after the shooting, where an operation was performed.

To the police Miss Roberts said she was taking one of her customary evening walks with her father. She lives with her aunt, and met Dr. Roberts near her home. After he refused to yield to her pleas to return to her mother, who is believed to be in New Orleans, Miss Roberts drew a revolver, she says, and shot him three times. She was arrested at her aunt's home. Her mental condition will be examined.

WEDS NEW YORK GIRL

"Irma," Subject of Goldberg's Mystery Cartoon, Becomes Artist's Bride.

New York, Oct. 17—When Reuben L. Goldberg, the cartoonist, whose income is said to be $100,000 a year, turned out his mystery cartoon, "It's All Wrong Irma,, It's All Wrong," his friends wondered who Irma might be. Goldberg was married here today to Miss Irma Seeman, daughter of Sigel W. Seeman, a wholesale grocer.

Goldberg saw Miss Seeman for the first time at a restaurant with her parents about a year ago. It was several months later that he met her.

Goldberg is a quiet young man, who does not use the expression: "I'm the guy," "I never thought of that," "It's all wrong," "Father was right," except in his cartoons.

Goldberg is a native of San Francisco. He came to New York in 1907.

LIQUOR ADVERTISEMENTS

Attorney-General Submits Opinio on Mapp Law Barring Their Appearance in State Papers

Liquor advertisements of all kinds are specifically barred after November 1, under the terms of the Mapp prohibition act, from the columns of all newspapers or periodicals published within the confines of this State, according to an opinion rendered yesterday by Attorney-General John Garland Pollard at the request of J. Sidney Peters, Commissioner of Prohibition.

The Attorney-General holds, however, that this inhibition of newspaper advertisement does not apply to a newspaper published outside the State of Virginia, provided an obligation has been incurred or money has been paid for the advertisement This concession was granted Virginia subscribers to the metropolitan dailies after a vigorous fight before the Committee on Moral and Social Welfare, which framed the act.

LABOR LEADERS BEATEN

Supreme Court Declines to Review Convictions of Four From West Virginia.

The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday refused to review the convictions of four labor leaders in the 1913 West Virginia coal strike who were sentenced to six months' imprisonment for contempt of court in failing to obey on injunction by a Federal district judge.

The four leaders were Fannie Sullens, Frank Ledvinka, James Oates and Hiram Stephens.

The cases are another outcrop of litigation in connection with Judge Dayton's decree that the United Mine Workers was an unlawful conspiracy in its organization and operation. The defendants were members of the union and were found guilty of inciting members to leave or refuse employment. Their conviction was affirmed by the Fourth Federal Circuit Court of Appeals on the theory that Judge Dayton's decree against the United Mine Workers was valid.

The case is set for reargument before the Supreme Court during the present term.

STRENGTH RETURNS BY USE OF TANLAC.

Numerous Ailments of Norfolk Lady All Fall Before New Medicine.

Who has not heard of the powers of Tanlac? Who does not know of the wonders it has done in all parts of the country? Each day it brings some new person back to health.

One of those is Mrs. Mary Fentress of 132 Harvey street, Norfolk, Va., who said; "I suffered from stomach trouble, indigestion and felt weak and run-down in general. Gas formed on my stomach after eating and a severe pain in my chest made me so weak that I could hardly keep up. I read of the good Tanlac was doing and tried it. Now I am well of indigestion and can eat anything I want and have a splendid appetite. I do not suffer with pains in my chest and am much stronger. I am confident it is a good medicine as I have taken only one bottle and have advised my daughter-in-law to take it and she is getting good results."

Do you seek good health? If so, go today to Leadbeater Drug Corporation, Alexandria or G. T. Mankin and Co., Falls Church and get a bottle of Tanlac and give it a trial.

LYNCH AND BURN TWO

Residents of Paducah, Ky., Kill Negro Accused of Assault and Another Who Approved.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 17.—On the heels of two lynchings here yesterday, Paducah prepared for possible further trouble last night by ordering its saloons to remain closed and by swearing in extra peace officers.

The authorities, it was stated, feared that the lust for blood among the employes of a large railroad might be whetted by the summary execution during the day of two negroes whose bodies afterward were burned. One of them was charged with attacking the wife of one of the employes; the other expressed sympathy for him and, it was said, lauded his act.

Followed by a crowd estimated at 6,000 persons a large part of them in automobiles, the negroes were taken to the home of the woman, about two miles away. While one of them was presented to her for identification the other was taken to a tree, a rope thrown over a limb, his neck encircled in a noose and an automobile attached to the other end. As soon as the other negro had been identified as the assailant of the woman, he was led to the same tree and the process repeated.

After assuring themselves that both negroes were dead the members of the mob lowered the bodies and placed them on a blazing pile of brush.

McCormick Predicts President's Re-Election by Overwhelming Vote

Chicago, Oct., 17— Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, at Western Democratic headquarters yesterday issued a statement, which follows, in part:

"The campaign has progressed to the point of crystalliation. I am absolutely confident of the President's re-election by a vote so overwhelming that there can be no mistaking the sentiment of the people as between the party of performance and the statement of constructive achievement, on the one hand, and the party of promises and the candidate of destructive criticism, on the other.

"The American people have a sense of proportion no less of their sense of jstice and fair play. They have not been deceived by the inconsistent, evasive, deceptive and destructive Mr. Hughes, who has offered nothing definite, and who is unable to say what he would have done in the same circmstances."

"TIN SICKNESS" IN GERMANY.

Blood Poisoning Ascribed to Use of Preserved Food.

London, Oct. 17.—"According to travelers from Germany," says the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent, "a remarkable disease is spreading in many parts of Germany, especially in Berlin, Hamburg, Munich, and Cologne, caused by continual feeding from preserved foods. The sickness is described as 'tin sickness,' It is considered a serious form of blood poisoning.

"Thousands of cases are reported in every large city, although the authorities exercise strict control over the tin used for preseved foods."

"Only 'Gets-It' for Me After This!"

It "Gets" Every Corn Every Time. Painless. Nothing More Simple.

"Tll tell you what, I've quit using toe-eating salves for corns, I've quit making a package out of my toes with bandages and contraptions—quit digging with knives and scissors. Give me 'GETS-IT' every time!"

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your Druggist's Window It's a Good Time To End Your Corns.

That's what they all say the very first time they use "GETS-IT." It's because "GETS-IT" is so simple and easy to use—put it on in a few seconds—because there is no work or corn-fooling to do, no pain that shoots up to your heart. It gets your corns off your mind. All the time it's working—and then, that little old corn peels right off, leaves the clean, corn-free skin underneath—and your corn is gone! No wonder millions prefer "GETS-IT." Try it tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Alexandria and recommended as the world's best remedy by Richard Gibson.

To All Democrats:

The undersigned were appointed by the National Democratic Committee as Auxiliary Finance Committee, for the City of Alexandria, and have received an urgent request that we call upon all Democrats to help the cause.

Alexandria Democrats have thus far done nothing.

We, therefore, call upon every democrat in Alexandria and surrounding country to send us such contribution as he or she can, whether large or small.

Send something, if only a few cents, and show your interest. We will thankfully receive any aid whether $100 or 10 cents.

Remember that this is a big country and that there are many close and doubtful states; and the National Committee must have large means to carry on a successful fight.

The Republicans have large interests that contribute to their overflowing treasury.

The Democrats must depend upon voluntary offerings, and mainly upon a great number of small ones, to make up their necessitous treasury. Send your contribution to any member of the Committee, and, whether it be large or small ,please send at once.

It is greatly needed.

This is a call to women as well as men.

Respectfully,

J. K. M. Norton,
Gardner L. Boothe,
Charles Bendheim,
William A. Sweeney,
Howard W. Smith,
Clinton Ballenger,
